

PRINCIPLES OF EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

A required course for recently appointed county DES coordinators and emergency managers.

The Principles of Emergency Management Course (G-230), is a 2 1/2 day (20 hours) training workshop designed for State of Montana local government officials, emergency management, National Guard and other emergency personnel that are or could be involved in managing, coordinating or supporting emergency operations. This course is for all disciplines that work together in planning for or responding to emergencies.

A course agenda will be posted on the DES website: <http://www.mt.gov/dma/des/training.asp>

This training examines the need for an emergency management system dealing with "all hazards". The importance of team building, identifying who is in charge, team work and professional relationships as a method towards an integrated approach to managing emergencies or disasters will be emphasized. Participants devise specific actions for improving their own contributions to local emergency management teams through a series of mini-exercises.

About the Training

The State of Montana, Disaster and Emergency Services Division of the Department of Military Affairs, has developed and adapted this program through the Federal Emergency Management Agency to meet the needs of Montana and our emergency management system. We are pleased to make this course available to local government officials, emergency personnel, National Guard, volunteers and others who may be responsible for assisting with Emergency Management.

This course is required for all newly appointed DES Coordinators/Emergency Managers who were hired after July 1, 1997 that use State and Local Assistance (SLA) funding. Reimbursement at current state rates will be provided for those required to take the course. Reimbursement is contingent upon successful completion of the program.

A staff of experienced emergency managers from State DES and local government present a dynamic and fast paced program that focuses on the basic principles of emergency management, human relationships and situational analysis.
